

CELL RADIATION GUARD™

Enjoy using technology while staying healthy

HF40

There are strong indications from many of the top scientists in the world that cell phone usage and all other forms of electromagnetic radiation cause damage ranging from hypertension, decreased sperm count to the life ending diagnosis of brain cancer. Professor Olle Johansson, a scientist at Karolinska Institute in Sweden, submitted testimony saying that "very serious biological changes" that include cancer risks have been noticed for years from exposure to low-frequency magnetic fields like those emitted from cell phones.

Up to a few years ago, noise field generators were complicated devices that had to be plugged in but thanks to a Russian-American physicist, a small lightweight portable, scientifically proven noise field polymer has been developed, the MRET polymer (Molecular Resonance Effect Technology).

How the HF 40 works: Superimposes a low frequency 'noise field' on EMR that resembles the natural resonant frequencies of the body's living cells. This effectively renders the EMR harmless.

Suitable for use with Mobiles, Smart phones, Computers, Bluetooth and PDA devices, Televisions, Cordless phones and any other household electrical devices.

NOTE: Please note the Cell Radiation Guard should not be placed on the screen of your device
